

Bear's story by Carole Clifton

Bear is a male nine year old Staffie X who I adopted from Yaps when he was four months old. He was surrendered into Yaps along with his mother as there was a serious illness in the family and they could no longer care for the dogs.

Bear is just one of the best natured dogs you could ever meet and does not have a mean bone in his body. Bear loves everything and everyone and is just a joy to take out on walks as you never have to worry about any aggression from him, even when another dog comes onto him a bit full on they must just sense his nature and then they start to play. His one fault is he is sometimes too friendly as he wants to greet everyone!
