

Bella and Molly's story by Angela Lyons

Double trouble! Bella and Molly are my much loved year old Moodle babies. They should have been named 'yin and yang ' as they cannot be more opposite.

Bella is a ball-obsessed, fast paced outdoor dog and doesn't like stopping for a cuddle unless she is extremely tired. She loves her soft stuffed tiger, wrestling her sister and going to the beach. You could confuse her for a boy. She is a long-limbed athlete.

Molly, (Skinny), is a precious princess who loves being cuddled and will do any tricks for food. She loves walking on the treadmill, exercising indoors, (hates wet grass), and freaks out at storm water drains.

Both girls are extremely social and get depressed when no one stops to say 'hello!' when they are out and about. They love each other dearly and also like to wrestle each other.

Sisterly love.
