

Bill's story by Alana Pearce

I've had Bill since he was a puppy, and I am sure he thinks he's human.... He started life in the Blue Mountains, then moved to Cairns with me before going Singapore for a year, then back here, so a well travelled boy! Bill loves the beach but also loves to drag me into the coffee shop for breakfast where he will wait not so patiently for toast.... He loves a walk along the esplanade or just being with you is he's favourite thing to do.

I can't imagine life without my favourite boy!
