

DJ's story by Morgan Brown

My big girl DJ, (Domino Junior), was born to mother Shadow, a kelpie cross Labrador in Almaden in 2012 with her sister and two brothers. A year earlier I lost my kelpie girl named Domino in Mareeba and still felt the hurt until I met this strong-willed little girl.

Before I arrived to meet them, I had planned to adopt her sister as she looked like Domino. After I arrived, she sat back and studied me when I was playing with her siblings. Then when they got bored and ran off, then she decided to come over and check me out. So I picked her up and she just lay in my arms with a smile on her face. I knew she was the ONE, even though she chose me and not the other way around.

To this day she is the ruler of the house and keeps everything and everyone in order. She is my big girl, who I wouldn't trade for the world.
