

Jake's story by Grace Clarke

When I first moved to Cairns two years ago, I didn't know anyone. I was lonely and needed a best friend and thought a dog would be perfect for me. So I headed down to the RSPCA and that's where I met Jake, my best friend. When we first met, he wouldn't leave me alone and I just fell in love with him instantly. We took him home as a little puppy with his massive paws and too big ears. Jake settled into our family perfectly. He might look intimidating but he's just a big softy who loves affection from everyone.
