

Napoleon's story by Juliette Boussard (aged 7 1/2)

We brought Napoleon home in early March 2015, now he is eight months old. When we got him he was very small and unburty. As he has got bigger his teeth have got sharper and sharper. Now he is always bitey and licky. He is black and white and has a bindy on his forehead. He loves to cuddle-up and can get very cross if you move. He growls! He has about 100 toys all over the backyard. His favourite is a big brown teddy, which he has been amorous with since forever. He is very clumsy and tumbles everywhere. He is very greedy and loves food, especially big bones, but Dad gets cross when he brings them inside.

Sometimes I think he is like a little brother!
