

Tilly's story by Kim Kinneally

At the time, I was feeling down. On Facebook, I saw an article about Fostering a Greyhound and a picture of Tigerlily. I fell in love straight away. I asked a few questions, and then organised to go have a look with my daughter. Tigerlily was very shy and timid, but we both fell in love with her.

So on the 16th April I got my beautiful Miss Tilly, the "Gotcha day" in Greyhound terms. She is one of the best things I have done in a long time. We rescued each other! She means the world to me and makes me smile every day!

I love her cuddles, kisses and her excitement when we are about to go to do something, like go on walks or go to the creek for a swim or when I come home from work. She is like a puppy all over again, it is so good seeing her having such a great time – it melts my heart all over again.

Tilly has a naughty trait of taking your shoes if you don't get up and take her for a walk straight away. This can sometimes be 4:30 am! She doesn't chew them most of the time, just collects them. The longer you take to get up the more shoes she will collect. If no shoes are left, it will be pieces of clothing.
